Serving the counties of Berkeley, Charleston and Dorchester

Trident “Build the Energy Up!” Seminar

According to the Trident Gap Analysis, residents of the Trident region do not have access to sufficient information about up-and-coming careers in the local area. Thus, the Trident Regional Education Center (TREC) hosted the Build the Energy Up! Seminar.

The seminar’s purpose included promoting student achievement and career awareness by demonstrating to students the connection between their classroom lessons and the working world. Lectures, hands-on demonstrations, industry panels and round robin sessions emphasized careers in Manufacturing and Health Science - two of the region's clusters of focus.

Patricia Ferguson, TREC Coordinator, quizzes the audience about the manufacturing industry.

- united students, educators and industry leaders in an effort to build awareness of career opportunities
- established a platform for future career cluster seminars
- initiated a network of industry professionals to connect to the classroom
